DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. 37 CFR 1.74. Reference to drawings. When there are drawings, there shall be a brief description of the several views of the drawings and the detailed description of the invention shall refer to the different views by specifying the numbers of the figures, and to the different parts by use of reference letters or numerals (preferably the latter).

(b) Photographs . —

(1) Black and white . Photographs, including photocopies of photographs, are not ordinarily permitted in utility and design patent applications. The Office will accept photographs in utility and design patent applications, however, if photographs are the only practicable medium for illustrating the claimed invention. For example, photographs or photomicrographs of: electrophoresis gels, blots (e.g., immunological, western, Southern, and northern), auto- radiographs, cell cultures (stained and unstained), histological tissue cross sections (stained and unstained), animals, plants, in vivo imaging, thin layer chromatography plates, crystalline structures, and, in a design patent application, ornamental effects, are acceptable. If the subject matter of the application admits of illustration by a drawing, the examiner may require a drawing in place of the photograph. The photographs must be of sufficient quality so that all details in the photographs are reproducible in the printed patent.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to for failing to adequately describe the claimed invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The examiner notes that, based upon the disclosure, it can be inferred as to what the applicants consider to be the invention, however, the specification does not contain a full, concise, and clear description of the manner and process of making and using the invention as claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claims 1-4, 9-15, and 19-22, as well as understood, are rejected under 35

U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Witt (5,619,898).

7. Claims 1, 5, 8-11, 14, 15, 18-20, as well as understood, are rejected under 35

U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kennedy et al. (6,322,430).

8. Claims 1-5, 9-15, and 19-22, as well as understood, are rejected under 35

U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Miller (2004/0014404).

9. Claims 1-5, 9-15, and 19-22, as well as understood, are rejected under 35

U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Castronovo (6,679,444).

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Baker, Born et al., Feehan et al., Huang, Hutchinson et al., Koch, Kwang, Leikam, Sato et al., and Schmid each disclose a device pertaining to the cleaning or degradation of compact disks.
